Operation and content

UNIR reserves the right to make any updates or modifications it deems appropriate to this website, at any time and without prior notice to users. Such changes may affect the content, structure, or access conditions to the website.

UNIR is not responsible for any communication failures and does not guarantee continuous operation or uninterrupted access to the website. In the event of technical issues, the University will take all reasonable steps to correct any such problems as quickly as possible.

UNIR also informs users that in order to view certain content on this website, specific software may be required to access and display documents properly.

Intellectual and Industrial Property

UNIR is the owner and/or licensee of all content published on this website, including but not limited to images, graphic designs, blog posts, text, trademarks, logos, all types of data, as well as the source code, page design, and structure.

UNIR holds the exclusive rights of reproduction, distribution, modification, and public communication of said content, as well as all other forms of exploitation.

All website content is protected by intellectual and industrial property regulations. Making such content available on the website does not imply any transfer of rights of any kind over the intellectual or industrial property of the material.

Viewing, downloading, and printing content from the website is strictly prohibited when carried out for advertising or commercial purposes, or for distribution, public communication, modification, or any other use incompatible with the purposes of this website. In all other cases, prior written authorisation from UNIR must be obtained, and the original source must be cited.

Under no circumstances may logos, graphics, images, icons, etc., be used independently from the accompanying text or the other elements with which they appear on the website.

UNIR reserves the right to take legal action against users who violate or infringe intellectual or industrial property rights, including the right to seek compensation for any damages caused. Likewise, the user agrees to indemnify UNIR for any harm or damage that may result from improper use of this website.

Any information submitted by users of the website, such as suggestions, proposals, or comments, shall be deemed to be provided on a voluntary and non-confidential basis, and will therefore be considered to have been assigned to UNIR free of charge. We therefore ask that you refrain from sending any information that does not meet this condition.

Liability

Access to this website and any use made of the information contained herein is the sole responsibility of the person accessing it. The user expressly acknowledges that both access to and use of the portal are undertaken entirely at their own risk.

As such, UNIR shall not be held liable under any circumstances for any damages or losses that may arise from such access or use of the information provided, nor for any errors or harm that may affect the user's computer system (hardware or software), files or documents stored therein, as a result of the presence of viruses, browser malfunctions, or the use of outdated browser versions.

In accordance with Law 34/2002 of 11th July on Information and Electronic Commerce Society Services, any disputes that may arise shall be governed by Spanish law.

The user shall, in all cases, be responsible for the accuracy of the data provided. UNIR reserves the right to exclude from its registered services any user who has provided false or inaccurate data, without prejudice to any other legal actions that may be applicable.

Participation in forums, chats, social media, and virtual communities

UNIR accepts no responsibility for the opinions expressed in forums, chats, or other online participation spaces. The views and comments published in these spaces are solely those of their authors and do not reflect the views of administrators or moderators (except where such comments are made by them personally).

By registering to participate in these areas, users agree not to post any material that is abusive, discriminatory, obscene, vulgar, violent, threatening, or otherwise in violation of applicable laws. Users also accept that UNIR reserves the right to delete, edit, move, or close any message it deems inappropriate or irrelevant.

Jurisdiction

For any dispute arising from access to or use of this website, users and UNIR expressly waive any other applicable jurisdiction and agree to submit to the Courts and Tribunals of La Rioja, Spain.
